FACTSHEET

PROOF OF IDENTITY

If you need to advise us of a change to your personal details, electronic verification is the simplest way to prove your identity. If your personal details have changed, or you elect to provide certified copies of your ID, please refer to the instructions below.

CERTIFYING COPIES OF YOUR ID

Step 1: Find the right ID

What ID do you need?

A current Australian driver's licence¹ or an Australian passport that is current or has expired within the last two years. If you don't have a current Australian driver's licence or passport, see the 'Other acceptable ID' section below.

¹ Must have the same name and address as on the application.

Step 2: Make a photocopy of your ID

Make sure you have a clear and full copy of your ID.

Step 3: Get your ID photocopies certified by an authorised person

You can usually find an authorised person to certify your ID at a post office, bank or police station. Please see the 'Who can certify your ID?' section below for a list of people who can certify your ID copies, depending on whether you are inside or outside of Australia.

Step 4: Make sure your ID has been certified correctly

You will need to show your original ID and the photocopy to an authorised person. They will:

- compare the copy and the original
- write or stamp 'This is a true and correct copy of the original' or similar words, followed by their signature, printed name, qualification (e.g. Justice of the Peace, police officer) and the date
- provide information clearly identifying the person certifying.

Step 5: Send the original certified photocopy by post

We need to see the original signatures on the certified ID so you will need to post the documents to us. Emails or faxes of these documents can't be accepted.

Please post certified copies of your ID to:

Active Super
PO Box N835
Grosvenor Place NSW 1220
